Location & Description of Work

Mobilized to the site with Jorden Zarders, biologist in charge of taking inventory of insects and plants at the observatory. The 10 traps deployed on Aug 11, 2022 were collected and another inspection of the site was conducted.

Wallace Ishibashi from the University of Hawaii came on site around 12:00. He noted concern that the Kona Transport team have no safety equipment or PPE.

Team demobilized for the day with no incidents.
